

Target Sheets Spring 2014 - Parent's Comments

Do you find this new Target Sheet/All About Me Sheet helpful?

- I can see the targets and I then can help at home as well as at school.
- Yes, because the attendance really worried me until the part explained my child was only there half days.
- Yes – it lets me know what she is working towards as she doesn't tell me what she is specifically doing at school.
- Yes – I think it's very helpful to know what my children are working towards and how I can help them achieve this.
- Yes – it is good to see what they are learning and developing on an ongoing basis. It prompted my son to talk about the different points made in more detail which we all found enjoyable to hear.
- Yes – lovely to see her version.
- Yes I do find it useful. Whatever she's not there with I can practice at home.
- Yes it is good to know their targets so that we can support our child in these areas at home.
- Yes – to allow us to build on things which she is doing in Nursery.
- Yes – it's interesting to see specific examples of what they are/need to work on.

Is there any other information about your child's progress you would like us to provide on a regular basis?

- No, thank you for all the help.
- Just to make sure still plays with friends and doesn't go back playing independently.
- Only if there is an area where she needs extra help.
- As a working Mum a little bit more information about some of the main activities, visitors or visits that will be taking place over the term would be useful.
- Only if there is somewhere where she requires extra support.
- What they're really enjoying and inspired by. What they're struggling with – to give us ideas of fun things to do at home or at the very least, talk about.

Making a difference where you live

